The following categories describe different ways we may use and disclose your medical information. The examples provided serve only as guidance and do not include every possible use or disclosure.

All research projects, however, are subject to a special approval process. Prior to using or disclosing any medical information, the project must be approved through this research approval process. We will ask for your specific authorization if the researcher will have access to your name, address, or other information that reveals who you are, or will be involved in your care.

12. Electronic Disclosure. We may use and disclose your medical information electronically. For example, if another provider requests a copy of your medical record for treatment purposes, we may forward such record electronically. In general, psychotherapy notes may not be used or disclosed without your written authorization, except in the following circumstances.

For example, marketing includes communications to you about new state-of-the-art equipment if the equipment manufacturer pays us to send the communication to you. We will obtain your written authorization to use and disclose PHI for marketing purposes unless the communication is made face-to-face, involves a promotional gift of nominal value, or otherwise permitted by law.

YOUR RIGHTS REGARDING YOUR MEDICAL INFORMATION

You have the following rights regarding medical information collected and maintained about you:

1. Right to Inspect and Copy. The right to inspect and receive a copy of medical information that may be used to make decisions about your care. This includes the right to direct us to transmit a copy of your medical information to a designated person or entity of your choice. Usually, this includes medical and billing records. Upon your request, Texas Fertility Center will provide a copy of such records as soon as possible, and within fifteen (15) days of your request.

To inspect and receive a copy of your medical information or to direct us to provide a copy of your choosing, you must submit your request in writing or electronically to the Privacy Officer for Texas Fertility Center. If you request a copy of the information, Texas Fertility Center may charge a fee for the costs of copying, mailing, or summarizing your records. We will inform you of all fees in advance. You can also ask to see or get an electronic copy of health information we have about you. Please contact our Privacy Officer at (512) 451-0149 ext. 7426 with any questions you have on how to request access, receive a copy, or how to direct us to transmit your information to a designated person or entity. On our website (<https://txfertility.com>), there is a fee schedule for copies and/or summaries of medical records.

Texas Fertility Center may deny your request to inspect and copy in certain very limited circumstances. If you are denied access to medical information, you may request that the denial be reviewed. Another licensed health care professional chosen by Texas Fertility Center will review your request and denial. The person conducting the review will not be the person who denied your request. Texas Fertility Center will comply with the outcome of the review.

Your request should indicate in what form you want the list (for example, on paper or electronically). The first list you request within a 12-month period will be free. 4. Right to Request Restrictions. To request a restriction or limitation on the medical information Texas Fertility Center or a Texas Fertility Center affiliated entity uses or discloses about you for treatment, payment or health care operations. You also have the right to request a limit on the medical information they disclose about you to someone who is involved in your care or the payment for your care.

Neither Texas Fertility Center nor one of its affiliated entities is required to agree to your request, unless the request pertains solely to a health care item or service for which Texas Fertility Center has been paid out of pocket in full and: (i) the restriction pertains to payment or a health care operation and (ii) the disclosure is not otherwise required by law. Should Texas Fertility Center or one of its affiliated entities agree to your request, Texas Fertility Center or the affiliated entity will comply with your request unless the information is needed to provide you emergency treatment.

5. To request restrictions, you must make your request in writing to Texas Fertility Center or the Texas Fertility Center affiliated entity. In your request, you may indicate: (1) what information you want to limit; (2) whether you want to limit their use and/or disclosure; and (3) to whom you want the limits to apply.
